

Hyde Center Grounds To Be Closed After Sundown

Increased vandalism on the Hyde Rehabilitation Center estate has made it necessary to close the grounds to the public after sundown, it was announced today by officials of the Pine Tree Society. The difficulty of apprehending the individuals who have been breaking windows, tearing down signs and otherwise destroying property has made this step necessary, they added.

Chief of Police Robert Wagner, Jr. has announced that patrols on the Hyde estate have been increased to prevent continuation of this vandalism.

The officials of the Pine Tree Society would like the public of the Bath-Brunswick area to know they are still welcome at the Center and the property may continue to be used during the day as has been the practice in the past.

According to the officials, the step was taken only to eliminate the destruction of buildings and property which has taken place at night.
